Individual Identity

These are all features that shape us when we grow old, when we develop, and make us different from others:

- What we know;
- What we like;
- What we don't like;
- What we feel about ourselves.

Social Identity

This is everything that allows us to feel being part of a group. This may be nationality, religion, gender, but also a hobby or anything else that makes us feel we belong to a specific group.

Personal identity is built on differences from others
(I am myself, because I am different compared to other people)

Social identity is built on similarities to others
(I am myself, because I am like other members of my group)
